BLAKE HALL
WEB DEVELOPER

blake.hall@uky.edu
(859) - 749-6825

Profile

Determined problem solver. Highly adaptable. Continually learning new technologies.

Skills

Programming Languages
Experience in C++, Ruby (Rails/Sinatra), Java, and Perl with a little experience in PHP, SQL databases.

Networking
Exposure to networking with Windows, Linux, and OS X. Familiar with email, FTP, and web servers.

Project Direction and Collaboration
Involvement in planning and leading study groups and team projects. Experienced in using Git version control and GitHub.com for collaboration.

Technical

XHTML/CSS	Ruby	OS X
Java	C++	Windows XP/Vista/7
Javascript	Git	Linux

Experience

University of Kentucky Computer Science Dept.
2008-Present
Assistant Systems Admin.

Assist in the maintaining of the CS Dept. Network of Windows, Linux, and OS X machines. Built e-mail server in Linux. Built machines and installed Operating systems along with other miscellaneous IT work.

Code for America, San Francisco
Summer 2011
Intern / Google Summer of Code Participant

Built Ruby gems for government and open data APIs as part of the Google Summer of Code. Helped build sites built on Ruby on Rails. Built machines, setup projectors, and traveled to assist setting up multi-projector displays for clients.

University of Kentucky Center for Visualization and Virtual Environments
Summer 2006
Student Worker

Assisted the Commercialization and Project lead in the construction of an eighty projector high resolution display.

Education	University of Kentucky - Lexington, Kentucky
	Current — Major in Computer Science — 3.155 GPA